Celebrating Success and Preparing for Progression Exams!

Greetings, wonderful families and friends of our school community!

Last week's International Day was an absolute blast, wasn't it? From the vibrant greetings from around the globe to the dazzling displays of talent and culture, it was a day filled with energy and excitement! Our students, from the little ones in kindergarten to the seniors in secondary, truly shone bright with their performances and presentations.

From the tantalizing flavors of Asia, with mouthwatering Indian and Omani cuisine stealing the spotlight, to the delectable delights of Europe, offering refreshing juices and snacks to tantalize our taste buds, and not to mention the energy-boosting African foods that left us craving for more – every bite was a culinary adventure!

But now, as the cheers from International Day echo in our memories, we have shifted gears and plunged back into the world of academics with gusto! This week has been all about hitting the books, delving deep into subjects, and mastering concepts as we near the end of Term 2.

Yes, it is that time of the year again when we buckle down and focus on achieving our academic goals. Students and teachers alike are working tirelessly to wrap up the objectives set for this term. It is a hive of activity in classrooms and study spaces as everyone strives for excellence.

With the end of the term fast approaching, FK educators have begun preparations for the upcoming progression exams. These assessments, scheduled to commence on March 18th later this month, will provide valuable insights into our students' progress and help guide their academic journey.

After the progression exams, our students will enjoy a well-deserved break of about two weeks before returning in mid-April for the start of the third academic term. It will be a time for rest, rejuvenation, and perhaps a little adventure too!

As we gear up for the weeks ahead, let us continue to support and encourage our students in their academic endeavors. Together, we will celebrate their success and navigate any challenges that come our way with resilience and determination.

Here is to a productive end to Term 2 and a bright future ahead for our amazing students!

Cheers!
